(XLVIIIth YEAR.) THE (No. 2400.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1793.

STRASBURG, October 4.

THE three hundred prisoners taken in the Palitinate, arrived here this day —The general's advance guards and regiment band of music, accompanied by an immense mob, preceded them. The Jacobins received them as brothers, making the air resound with the tune of Ca Ira performed on the various instruments. The decree respecting deserters, and other papers tending to seduce the enemy's armies, were distributed to them in the French and German languages. It is reported that the inhabitants of Spire and Mayence exclaimed, with a perfect good will, Vive la Nation.

LISLE, October 16.

The van-guard of Dumourier's army is expected to have arrived yesterday at Valenciennes. The general is hourly expected there. The three commissioners from the national convention, who set out on Saturday last to go and establish order and tranquility in Cambray, have not yet been heard from.

FRANCFORT, October 10.

The rapid sensation of fear has seized all the princes on the banks of the Rhine. The house of Baden has taken flight. The prince of Linauge has arrived at Mannheim with all his baggage. The bishop of Spire has retired to Oldenwald and thence has taken the road to Heilbron, towards Newstadt. The commissary of provisions at Heidelberg has emptied the magazines in haste, on the news of the approach of the French. Many French families have taken refuge in the Oldenwald.

NAMUR, October 11.

Some people are arrived from the army of general Clairfait, such as commissioners, suttlers, &c. They say that the troops have undergone the greatest distress; that they were four days without eating; that at last they killed and eat their horses, and that if a truce had not been made, they must all have surrendered; out of 6000 cavalry, which composed this army, not above 400 will return; the rest are all killed, taken, and the horses eat! The remains of general Clairfait's army have already passed the French frontier.

HAGUE, October 16.

The various successes of the French, in Germany and Savoy, occasions a good deal of consternation in this country, and government is afraid, lest patriotism should again raise its head. Dumourier's threat of putting up his winter quarters at Bruffels, occasions a prodigious alarm, because the people here well know that it would be only a step to proceed thence to Holland. Government consequently pursue vigorous measures against all those who are suspected of favouring patriotic ideas, and the states of Holland have lately issued an order on this subject.

BRUSSELS, October 17.

We hear from the provinces of Namur and Luxemburg, that the army of their royal highnesses Monsieur and the duke d'Artois, is disbanded, as well as that under the duke de Bourbon. The individuals of which these armies were composed are in the greatest distress, wandering and dispersed, without knowing where to go, or what is to become of them: many without money; others selling their horses, watches, and even their cloaths. I have seen some with no other covering than a blanket. A great many have not only the shirt upon their backs, and are wading through thick and thin with half a pair of shoes. All these poor unfortunate men have got their discharges in their pockets, and anxiously desire to return to their native country. It is to be hoped that the French will shew themselves a generous nation in this instance, and that their humanity will lead them to forgive a suppliant enemy.

PARIS, October 11.

The convention has voted twenty millions of livres, for cloathing and equipping the troops.

In the late attack of Spire, the Austrians are stated to have lost 800 men, besides a great number who were mortally wounded.

Twenty were killed, and thirty wounded on the side of the French.

Four hundred waggons load of ammunition and stores have been brought from Spire to Landau; about twice as much still remains in the magazines. Five pair of colours, taken by general Custine, are now suspended from the roof of the hall in which the convention sit.

Dumourier says, that not less than 25,000 Prussians have perished since their entry into France.

Oct. 12. A serious rupture has taken place among the Jacobins, who for some time have been suspicious of Brissot, Vergniaud and Guadet, means to engross the whole power in their own hands. In their last sitting they voted the expulsion of Brissot, and ordered his name to be erased from their minute book. What may be the end of the present schism, it is impossible to say; but it is probable it will at least have the effect to remove the obstacles which this body frequently throws in the way of the executive power, and prevent them from ever carrying their own purposes with such irresistible influence.

General Dumourier arrived here last night about ten o'clock.

The election of a mayor is closed—Petion was elected by a great majority.

M. Garat has accepted the office of minister of justice, but the intentions of Pache, who was elected successor to Roland, are not yet known.

It now clearly appears, the majority of the Jacobin club is the minority of the convention; and it is argued from this, that whatever may have been done in the moment of violent contest between faction and faction, political matters are about to make a turn in favour of the moderate party.

Oct. 16. General Dumourier took his departure from Paris, for the army, on Tuesday morning. He went on Sunday night to the Jacobins, and made a speech, in which he said,

"Citizens, brothers, and friends, you have begun a great epoch; you have torn to pieces the ancient history of France, which offered nothing but the picture of despotism. A new æra rises out of this revolution, which electrifies our armies, and which has given them the necessary courage to repulse superior force. We are not fatigued. Pain, misery and hunger do not exhaust us; we are more courageous than ever. We shall render unto despots what they would have given us. Before the end of the month, I hope to have 60,000 men to attack kings, and to save the people from slavery."

To which Danton, as president, made the following reply: "When Fayette, that vile eunuch of the revolution, took flight, you had already served the republic, by not despairing of its welfare; you rallied our brother; you afterwards preserved with address, the station that ruined the enemy; and you have deserved well of your country. A grand career is yet open to you; may the pikes of the people break the sceptre of kings! and may crowns fall before the red bonnet, with which the society honours you! Return afterwards, and live among us, and your name shall figure in the grandest pages of our history."

So the die is cast, that the propaganda is to be carried into Brabant.

Oct. 20. A body of troops is gone to reinforce general Custine, who is expected yet to lay Coblentz under contribution.

The patriots treat with extreme levity the accession of Spain to the confederacy. The Spanish monarch certainly came to the determination only on the consideration of the duke of Brunswick reaching Paris. They now laugh at the dilemma in which he must find himself, observing, that they have got another fine royal fish, caught in the revolution net!

A complaint has been made against general Anselme, for having established an administration tribunal, in the conquered country of Nice, without waiting the order of the republic. A sister of this general commands a corps of 1500 men!—This lady is a Jacobin, and adorns her person with the red bonnet!

LONDON, October 16.

The assembly of the ministers of the different powers of Europe, is, it seems, to commence its functions about the 20th instant. For some of these ministers, the Austrian government has prepared lodgings. As a preliminary step to the holding of a congress, an ordinance has been published, commanding all the French emigrants to quit Luxemburg, under the pretext, however, of the speedy arrival of troops.

Notwithstanding Geneva is fortified by a strong wall, and that the Swiss cantons of Berne and Yurich have always supported it with their forces, we have reason to fear it is ere this in the hands of the French, whose system appears to be, to make war on every defenceless state. Preparations were made by general Montesquoiu in order to attack it; the following is the note delivered October 3, to the chief syndic of Geneva, from M. Dechateauneuf, resident of France:

"The French resident has the honour officially to inform M. the chief syndic, and through him, the magnificent council, that the introduction of a body of troops from the state of Berne into Geneva, in contempt of treaties, and contrary to the faith of a neutrality publicly and solemnly sworn, cannot have appeared to the supreme executive council other than a violation of treaties, and of the good harmony which hitherto has so happily subsisted between the town of Geneva and France, as well as the effect of a coalition with the powers combined against the liberty of the French; that the sacred duty of maintaining this liberty, imposes a law upon the supreme executive council to repel so hostile a measure by every means in its power. And it declares, through the medium of the resident of France, those magistrates who have encouraged the divisions which are about to separate the two nations, hitherto perpetual friends, responsible for all the events which shall succeed."

Geneva, October 3, 1792, the first year of the republic.

To this note the council made no reply, but published an address to the citizens at large, exposing the infamous conduct of the French, whose only object was plunder. The address concludes with these emphatic expressions:

"We shall have the assistance of all Switzerland, which is interested in our preservation, by its treaties, by its honour, and by the necessity it is under of defending its own possessions. Let us be united, let us be faithful to our oaths, let us be citizens of Geneva. This title includes every thing, and if we must perish, let no reproach of cowardice sully the last days of the republic!"

NEW-YORK, December 28.

Yesterday, in testimony of the heartfelt pleasure the citizens of this metropolis were inspired with, on hearing the triumphant successes which were attending the arms of our generous allies the French, the morning was ushered in by the ringing of bells.

At four o'clock, a federal salute was fired from the battery—and every countenance seemed to speak joy at heart in the glorious event, that liberty should reign victorious over her proud, despotic invaders; and at the clear prospect that such monsters as kings, will soon be expelled from the face of the earth.

In the evening, the Tammany society, or Columbian Order, met at their wigwam to celebrate the day, and a number of toasts were drank, which we are unable to obtain for this day's paper. The wigwam was beautifully illuminated; and the monument dedicated to Columbus, was also illuminated, which attracted the attention of the citizens and of the fair.

Yesterday being St. John's day, it was celebrated by the different lodges in the city.

Those who but a day or two ago affirmed, that the retreat of the duke of Brunswick's army was impossible, have now received undoubted information, that he had it perfectly in his power to cut the French army to pieces, and march directly to Paris, but that for reasons best known to himself, he chose to postpone both operations till next spring. The spring is, no doubt, a pleasant season for travelling, and may perhaps, be the best time of the year for cutting armies to pieces. His serene highness has proved, by experience, that the autumn is an excellent season for letting troops die of hunger and disease.

PHILADELPHIA, December 31.

Extract of a letter from Paterson, (N. J.) December 19, 1792.

"Various paragraphs having appeared in different papers respecting the invention of a machine at this place, for the purpose of cleaning the cotton of its seed, and as most of those accounts are erroneous, and unauthenticated, we are authorised to inform the public, that a ginn for the above purpose is now completed upon a construction entirely new, and to work by water; one of these engines occupying a space of not more than twelve feet by four, will produce very near 300lb. of cleaned cotton per day, and requires only the assistance of children. The usual and hitherto great impediments arising from the amazing friction and consequently great wear and tear, is so nearly removed in this engine as to be of but very little or no importance.—The machine is divided into separate and distinct movements, any given number of which may be instantly stopped by the attending child, without being the least impediment to the remainder. An application is making to government for a patent, being the production and joint invention of Mr. William Pearce and Mr. Thomas Marshall, conductors of the cotton spinning and weaving departments belonging to the national manufactory."

The returns of votes from all the states for president and vice-president, are now received, except from Kentucky. From what are received, it appears that the president is unanimously re-elected, and Mr. Adams by a majority of twelve.

We hear from Sagg-harbour, Long-Island, that a spot of land has been surveyed on Montauk-point, on the south side of that island, designed for the purpose of a light-house. The coast hereabouts is extremely dangerous from the body of shoals that extend some distance to sea, and which have every year proved fatal to more or less of the coasting and other vessels.

By the schooner Charlotte, captain Shenk, arrived at Charleston on the 1st instant, in three days from St. Mary's, we learn that commissioners appointed for that purpose had concluded a treaty with the Creek Indians, to the mutual satisfaction of both parties; and that the commissioners had set out to run the boundary line.

From Sunbury we learn that a gentleman lately arrived there from Niagara, who informed "that on the 5th November, he was in the council-room, and was told by the interpreter, Mr. Jones, that the western Indians had then agreed to hold a treaty of peace, on condition that the Americans would meet at the rapids of Lower Sandusky; that they had kindled a fire and buried the hatchet, in order to wait the result of the treaty, and that a party of warriors were to set off for Philadelphia in a few days."

CHARLESTON, (S. C.) November 27.

We are informed, that about three weeks ago, one M'Closky at the head of about eighty men, set out from Franklin county in Georgia, on a hostile expedition against one of the Cherokee towns. The Indians were previously informed of their intentions, and withdrew from the town with all their portable property, leaving only an old squaw whose extreme old age caused them to be indifferent about her fate. M'Closky's party were therefore disappointed in their object, and returned without effecting any thing except killing the old squaw.

A letter from Franklin county says, "John Watts, at the head of about 400 Creeks and 100 Cherokees, was lately defeated in an attack on Cumberland, with the loss of 150 warriors, and himself mortally wounded through each thigh."

NORFOLK, December 19.

Extract of a letter from the Havanna, to a gentleman in this town.

"The day after our departure (the 22d of October) the weather became stormy and rainy, and continued so until the 30th of October with great violence, without the shortest interval of fair weather; and on the 29th in the height of the gale, ten or eleven small vessels were driven out to sea; amongst them was a brig belonging to Baltimore, from Africa, commanded by captain Borrowdale, who, with his crew, escaped in their boat."

The last accounts from Port-au-Prince mention, that commerce bids fair to lift her drooping head, and that there is plenty of all kinds of produce, particularly sugars, at market.

Extract of a letter from West-Liberty, Ohio county, dated November 30th.

"Major William M'Mahon returned last Monday from a scout of near three weeks—he pursued a party of Indians who stole horses from Carpenter's station, (which is six miles from this town) about 180 miles north west of Ohio river, where he overtook them, and killed two, wounded one, retook all the horses, got three rifles and all their baggage, with a quantity of peltry.

"Last Wednesday night the Indians set fire to a stack-yard, at Tilton's station, seven miles from this place, in which was a large quantity of corn, wheat and fodder, but the fire was discovered and extinguished before much damage was done."

ANNAPOLIS, January 10.

On the 29th of October, the western parts of the island of Cuba experienced a severe hurricane. Ten or twelve vessels were driven to sea from the Havanna; and in that city 520 houses were totally destroyed.

"Died in child-bed, at Port-Tobacco, Charles county, Maryland, on the 23d of December last, Mrs. ANNE DAVIS, relict of Mr. Eleazer Davis, post-master at that place."

An ACT to appoint an agent for the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three.

BE IT ENACTED, by the general assembly of Maryland, That Randolph Brandt Latimer be agent of this state, to execute the trust and power reposed in him by virtue of this act, from the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three, until the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four.

And be it enacted, That the said agent superintend the collection of all arrearages and balances due from the several collectors of the respective counties within this state, appointed since the first day of January, seventeen hundred and eighty-three; and the said agent is hereby authorised and required to call upon the treasurers of the respective shores for an accurate statement of all the arrearages and balances due from such collectors, and such account shall be furnished by the said treasurers accordingly.

And be it enacted, That the said agent be authorised to superintend the collection of all balances due to the state on open account; and the said agent shall have power to require payment of, and if necessary to sue for the same; and the said agent, with the approbation of the governor and council, may make composition with any such debtors, and take bonds to the state, with sufficient security, and give time for payment, not exceeding four years from the first day of December, seventeen hundred and ninety-two, always requiring annual payments of the interest, and equal annual payments of the principal.

And be it enacted, That the said agent be authorised to superintend the collection of all monies due to the state for duties, fines, penalties, forfeitures and amerciaments, and forfeited recognizances, and for ordinary, retailers and marriage licences, and to require payment, and (if necessary) sue for the same; and the said agent may allow for insolvencies, and credit any money that the party is not chargeable with by law; and for his information of the law he may take the advice of the attorney-general in writing.

And be it enacted, That whenever there shall be occasion to expose to public sale the property of any collector, or his securities, by virtue of any execution already issued, or to be directed for this purpose, the agent shall cause public notice to be given of such sale, and shall attend the same, and if it shall appear that there is danger of losing any part of the debt due to the state, and not otherwise, shall purchase any property so exposed for the use of the state, in payment, or part payment, as the case may be, of the arrearages due by the collectors whose property may be so purchased; and any property so purchased for the use of the state, the said agent may again expose to public auction on the most advantageous terms for the interest of the state, and if the same be sold on credit, the said agent shall take bond, with good and sufficient security, to be approved of by the treasurer of the western shore, from the several purchasers of such property; and all bonds by him so taken shall be deposited, with an accurate list thereof subscribed by him, into the treasury of the western shore, and shall be a lien upon the real property of such purchasers and their securities from their respective dates.

And be it enacted, That the said agent shall have power to dispose of all confiscated British property that remains unsold, and take bonds to the state, with sufficient security, and give time for payment, not exceeding four years, from the first day of December, seventeen hundred and ninety-two, always requiring annual payment of the interest, and equal annual payments of the principal.

And, whereas there are still some balances due to this state upon sales of confiscated property unbonded for, and it appears to this general assembly that in some cases the purchasers are unable to make payment, and the property is becoming daily of less value, Be it enacted, That the said agent, with the approbation of the governor and council, be authorised to release any of the said purchasers who are unable to pay from their purchases, and take back the property for the use of the state; and the said agent, with the approbation of the governor and council, may make composition with the said purchasers for the use of the said property, and take bonds for the same to the state, with sufficient security, and give time for payment, not exceeding four years, from the first day of December, seventeen hundred and ninety-two, always requiring annual payment of the interest, and equal annual payments of the principal; and any property taken back the said agent shall dispose of in the same manner as he is before authorised to dispose of confiscated British property unsold, and to take bonds in the same manner for the purchase money, and on the same credit and terms; provided, that in no case shall the state refund any part of the principal or interest paid by such purchasers.

And be it enacted, That the governor and council be authorised, if they shall think it necessary, to require new bond and security from any debtor who has not installed, and to limit a time within which such new bond and security shall be given, and if the same be not given within the time so limitted, they shall direct the said agent to cause process to issue on the bonds of such debtors, and their securities, or to proceed on any execution already issued and served and suspended, as the case may require, for the whole principal and interest due from such debtors.

And be it enacted, That if any bond debtor shall neglect to make payment, agreeably to the condition of his bond, and sundry resolves of the general assembly, the said agent shall cause process to issue for the whole principal and interest then due, or shall proceed on any execution already issued and served and suspended as aforesaid, as occasion may require.

And be it enacted, That the said agent be authorised to superintend the collection of all balances due on bonds taken for taxes due before the first of January, seventeen hundred and eighty-three; and the said agent shall also superintend the collection of all balances due on bonds installed, or otherwise, for the emissions of paper money of seventeen hundred and sixty-nine and seventeen hundred and seventy-three.

And be it enacted, That in all cases where bonds shall be taken in consequence of this act, the said bonds shall be a lien on all the real property of the obligors from the date thereof, or on so much of the said real property as the governor and council shall think sufficient, to be particularly mentioned in a schedule to be annexed to the said bond, in which case it shall be a lien on the property contained in such schedule, and no more, such bond and schedule to be lodged with the treasurer of the western shore.

And be it enacted, That all bonds taken in virtue of this act shall express the county in which the obligors respectively reside, and the treasurer of the western shore shall, within one month after he receives them, respectively cause them, with the schedules annexed to them, to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the general court of the western shore at the expence of the obligors; and a copy of the said record, certified under the hand and official seal of the said clerk, shall be as good evidence in any court of law or equity in this state as the original bond would be if it was produced; and if any of the obligors in any such bonds reside on the western shore, the said treasurer shall, within six months from the time he receives the same respectively, transmit to the clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, in the same manner that papers on public service are transmitted, a copy of such bonds and schedules, certified as aforesaid by the clerk of the general court of the western shore, to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, at the expence of the obligors, and in such case a copy of the said record, certified as aforesaid by the said clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, shall be good evidence as aforesaid.

And be it enacted, That the said agent shall have power to fix such days for the sale of property taken on fieri facias at the suit of the state as he may think proper, always taking care to give twenty days notice thereof.

And be it enacted, That no process shall issue against any of the collectors aforesaid since the first day of January, seventeen hundred and eighty-three, unless by direction of the said agent.

And be it enacted, That the said agent shall pay into the treasury, in specie, the amount of all specie by him received in the discharge of the duties of this act.

And, whereas in Worcester county no collector of the fund tax for the year seventeen hundred and ninety-one hath been appointed, Be it enacted, That the said agent be authorised to appoint a collector of the said tax in said county, who shall give security for the performance of his duty agreeably to law; and the said agent may contract with and allow the person so to be appointed, a commission not exceeding twelve per cent. for collecting the same; and the said collector shall proceed to act in the same manner, and be liable to the same duties in all respects, as if he had been appointed by the commissioners.

And be it enacted, That the said agent shall render a fair and full account of his several proceedings under the authority of this act, to the general assembly at their next session, and shall be allowed for his services the following commissions, to wit: For all payments made to either of the treasurers on bonds for confiscated property, one per cent. for all bonds with security, taken by the said agent on resales of confiscated property in virtue of this act, two and a half per cent. for all monies collected on open accounts, four per cent. and for all other monies or bonds, paid in or taken in virtue of this act, one and a half per cent.

And be it enacted, That the said agent, before he enters upon the execution of the duties of this act, shall give bond to the state, before the governor and the council, in the penalty of twenty thousand pounds current money, with such securities as the governor and council shall approve, for the faithful performance of the said duties, which bond shall be lodged with the treasurer of the western shore, and shall also take an oath before the chancellor, that he will well and faithfully discharge the duties of agent under the act, entitled, "An act to appoint an agent for the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three," to the best of his skill and judgment; the certificate of which oath shall be annexed to, or endorsed on, the said bond.

And be it enacted, That if the said agent shall not accept his appointment, or if after acceptance he shall not give bond and take the oath aforesaid before the first day of February next, or shall die, the governor and the council are hereby authorised and required to appoint a fit and proper person in his place, who shall have and execute all the authorities and powers vested in the said Randolph Brandt Latimer by this act, such person first giving security and taking the oath aforesaid.

In COUNCIL, January 8, 1793.

ORDERED, That all debtors to this state for the purchase of confiscated British property, and all others who might have installed their debts under the act of assembly passed November session, 1790, entitled, an act respecting the creditors and debtors of this state, and who neglected to comply with the terms of the said act, be and they are hereby required to install such debts on or before the twentieth day of June next.

ORDERED, That the agent be and he is hereby required, immediately after the said twentieth day of June next, to cause process to issue on the bonds of such debtors as shall neglect to instal within the time above limitted, and their securities, or to proceed on any execution already issued and served and suspended, or otherwise, as the case may require, for the recovery of the whole principal and interest due from such debtors.

By order,

T. JOHNSON, jun. cl.

NOTICE.

THE debtors to the state of Maryland for confiscated property purchased, and others who have installed their debts, and whose instalments became due on the first day of December last, and which still remain unpaid, will be pleased to observe, that no process have as yet issued, or will issue, for the recovery thereof, until after the twentieth day of February next. This notice, it is sincerely hoped, will be attended to, as it will save the debtor a considerable expence, and the officer the disagreeable task of enforcing the collection. Process will certainly be commenced, without respect to persons, on the twenty-first day of February, against every delinquent.

The several county clerks, who did not make their returns on the first of November last, for fines, forfeitures and amerciaments, put into the sheriffs hands for collection, and their payments for marriage, ordinary, and retailers licences, received by them, will be pleased also to observe, that they are subject to heavy penalties for neglect of duty, and that my duty to the public will compel me to pursue the directions of the law, unless a speedy compliance is had.

THE ſubſcriber propoſes, in the enſuing ſpring, to have a number of STAVES, of different kinds, made on his land, ſituated about eight miles from George-town, and five from Bridge-town, at the head of Cheſter, Kent county, in this ſtate, and about eight miles from Duck creek, in the ſtate of Delaware. He would prefer paying the perſon he contracts with a certain proportion of the net profits ariſing from the ſale of the ſtaves, to giving a fixed price. As ſome parts of the timber will not anſwer for ſtaves, but may ſuit for ſhip-building, he means to have ſuch parts prepared for that purpoſe.
